

Pico Duarte Trek 2018

Fundraising Agreement

As part of your participation in the 2018 BLUE Missions Pico Duarte Trek in the Dominican Republic, you are committing to raise enough money to make clean, safe drinking water a reality for 20 people – USD $250. This is in addition to the costs of travel (flight, etc.) and outfitting (paid to BLUE Missions). You can contribute this amount ($250 or more) yourself or you can fundraise among your family, friends, and coworkers.

Including others in your fundraising commitment is a very rewarding and community-building experience, and we encourage you to let others know what you're doing! BLUE Missions will help you through the fundraising process and provide a personalized fundraising website to track online donations and send emails to supporters. We are also available to provide more ideas and support for fundraising along the way, including an e-kit on our website with sample emails and social media posts.

Ultimately, the commitment and responsibility is yours. This commitment helps us plan our water & sanitation projects with confidence for the upcoming year and ensures meaningful engagement from each participant in the expedition. You will be required to provide a credit or debit card, and it will automatically charge the difference between the funds raised and $250. (The final amount raised will be established on November 16th, 2018, and the account charged, if necessary, shortly thereafter.)

I, _____, understand I am committing to raise $250, and by participating in the trek I give BLUE Missions Group, Inc. permission to charge the account listed below the difference between what I am able to raise and $250 any time after November 16th, 2018.
